

Welcome to WAT

Dear Visitor,

WAT - World Adventure Tours is intended as an open an easy to join community site.

Our

aim is it to build up an open minded community of people being willing to share their personal experiences and adventures with a growing number of other members, and at the same time gather all kinds of helpful information about and around vacation and adventures trips.

Posting articles and membership are free ... join us today!

Articles about all aspects of travelling, vacations, tips and hints and for sure the exciting things you did are welcome. As a guide articles should be between 500 and 1000 words with 3 to 6 images to illustrate. Subscribed members are able to post themself, all others can email their stories and pictures to our contact address.

WAT features:

- A growing database of links of vacation and adventure ressources around the world
- News, products and services sections dealing with travelling
- Topics sections can be added to by contributing authors
- Articles featuring many aspects of learning to take better plan your trips and adventures
- Articles of collecting cameras and why people get hooked on this pastime
- Dynamic Poll/Voting booth for on-the-spot results. Tell us what you think of WAT.
- Adrenalin or relaxing. Going for the thrill, seeking the danger. What do you prefer?

The only things we do not tolerate are any kind of coarse language and unfriendly people in general.
